

SPECIAL OFFER

Few things are as eagerly anticipated in Australian theatre as a new work from David Williamson - and Flatfoot is certainly no exception. But it's not quite what you'd expect from Australia's premier playwright... Take Australia's leading comic actor Drew Forsythe, and his two witty accomplices John Gregg and Tina Bursill...add lashings of laughs and a dash of original music, turn them all upside down and you're left with an outrageous night at the theatre that will have you rolling in the aisles. This is David Williamson as you've never known him before, negotiating a comic minefield of farce, pratfalls - and togas - in an hilarious homage to Greek and Roman comedy.

Following the success of the recent trip to Wollongong to see The 3 Divas, Producer Christine Dunstan is again making a special offer to the Berry community to see Flatfoot

Parking In Berry:

Parking has always been an issue in Berry especially on weekends. Berry retail section is growing and more and more shops are opening away from Queen Street and are developing on side streets and facing onto the Albert Court car park. It is important for all business owners and staff to be considerate of other businesses and not park in front of retail outlets. Please when parking for work, be it a week day, weekend or public holiday, be considerate of others. All businesses in Berry depend on visitors to Berry and local trade for their lively hood - lets leave the parking for the customers.

The Berry Alliance and the Chamber are talking to Council to find alternative parking areas to assist with congestion.

New Faces:

The Chamber executive is very pleased to announce Melissa Wolpert has been appointed to work part-time as the Chamber's Executive Officer. Melissa comes very well qualified and brings a wealth of talent and ideas to the job. Expect to see Melissa visiting businesses over the next months as she makes herself known and familiarises herself with local business.

Another welcome addition to the Chamber is Jennifer Hornsey. Jennifer will act as the Chambers part-time Public Relations/media officer and has been engaged to publicise developments, happenings, events and special offers for Berry and put us on the map with the media.

Both Melissa and Jennifer are already involved with a number of community groups in Berry and the Chamber looks forward to benefiting from their skills and experience.

AGM Change of date:

The Chamber AGM was scheduled for August 10th but as that date seems to clash with a number of other meetings and functions the date has now been changed.

Date: 17th August

Venue: Berry Bowling Club

Time: 5.30pm
